Thinks U.S. Could Have Prevented War

By GAVIN HUGHES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The veteran American diplomat who was deputy chief of mission in Cairo when the Israeli-Arab war erupted last June says political timidity in Washington kept the United States from taking steps that might have prevented the war.
He is David G. Nes, whose resignation from the U.S. Foreign Service was revealed Monday. Nes, who had 26 years with the service, said he resigned because he became convinced that President Gamal Abdel Nasser's decision to close the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping ultimately led to the war.
"We warned Washington from Cairo that Nasser felt he was being pushed into a corner," Nes said, "and we predicted that he would lash out. We recommended some kind of gesture from Washington which would assure Nasser that we were not hostile, but this recommendation was ignored."
"Nobody in Washington was willing to take the political risk involved in doing anything for Egypt. Nobody wanted to be accused of helping Nasser. This was true at all levels—the State Department, the Congress and the White House."
Nes, along with 576 other Americans, was expelled from Egypt last June after the Egyptians accused the United States of participating in the war on Israel's side—a charge the United States denied.
Immediately after his expulsion, Nes charged the State Department had refused to heed warnings from its Cairo embassy on the gravity of the Middle East situation.
The State Department denied this accusation. Later, at a news conference, Nes told this reporter he is convinced Nasser's decisions to expel United Nations troops from the Gaza Strip, to dispatch 80,000 Egyptian soldiers to the Sinai Desert on Israel from access to the Gulf of Aqaba, all were based on Syrian and Soviet intelligence reports.
"These reports," Nes said, "warned of Israeli troop build-ups on the Syrian frontier. We advised the Egyptian Foreign Ministry that on the basis of our own intelligence there was no truth to these reports. But Egyptian distrust of American credibility was at such a point

Ex-Member of Board Also Had Trouble

By PETE YOUNG
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two unexpected observers turned up at an open meeting of the state Prison Board Wednesday.

O. E. Bishop, former prison superintendent, and Grady Woolley, former Prison Board member, both of El Dorado, stopped by "out of curiosity."
Woolley, who opposed the appointment of Thomas O. Murton as prison superintendent, said he was in Little Rock to appear before the Arkansas Senate when prison legislation is introduced.

Bishop, who was replaced by Murton at Cummins Prison Farm, said he was in Little Rock "on business but declined to say what it was."

"I've just been piddling around my home and enjoying being away from the prison," Bishop said. "I usually come to Little Rock once a month."

Both seemed amused at the apparent dissension between Murton and Prison Board Chairman John Haley of Little Rock. It was Haley who fought Woolley and other previous board members over the appointment of Murton.

Bishop's pet peeve as superintendent had been having to spend so much time explaining to the administration what was going on at the prison "so they could run it in Little Rock."

"Apparently, Mr. Murton doesn't like it either," Bishop said.
Woolley said he understood Scott and Murton were both on their way out of the Rockefeller fold, and not by choice.

Bishop said he was glad he was no longer at the helm of the penal system.

"If you stay on top of the job, it's like being sentenced yourself," Bishop said. "I've served my two years."

Both said the three skeletons found Jan. 29 in unmarked graves at Cummins were buried in a paupers cemetery.

Prison officials say the cemetery might contain as many as 100 bodies, possibly of murdered inmates, and that there is a possibility of a third graveyard.

Woolley said he had always heard of a second cemetery, but denied the existence of a third.

Bishop said, however, that there could be bodies buried over the levy some place, "but I'm not really sure."
Technically Bishop is still on the prison payroll and will remain there until Feb. 28 under an agreement when he resigned that he would be paid the equivalent of one month's superintendent's salary for accrued annual leave.

then the Egyptians refused to believe us and were convinced we were covering up for Israel.

"If we had been able to demonstrate to Nasser that we were not hostile to him, I believe we might have been able to dissuade him from the actions which led to war and we might have been able to prevent the conflict."

Miller Will Resign From State Police

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Police Director Carl L. Miller told Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller today that he was resigning effective no later than March 1.

Miller, in a letter to the governor, said, "I wish now to state that my intentions are to retire as soon as you may name my replacement but under no circumstances later than March 1."

Miller told the governor that in previous discussions with him he had mentioned an opportunity in another endeavor in which he was interested. He did not elaborate.

He said he was grateful for the opportunity of serving as director and that he felt sure the department would continue to make progress toward being a professional organization and "the best State Police force in the nation."

Miller became director last December after the state Supreme Court ruled that Lynn A. Davis was not eligible to serve as director because he had not lived in Arkansas the 10 years before Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller appointed him last July.

Miller was not immediately available for comment.

Davis, who was a visitor in the governor's office at the time that Miller's letter of resignation was released to news media, was asked what would happen in the State Police if the legislature refuses to make Davis eligible for the job.

"I guess they'll have to just find somebody else," Miller had said when he took the job that he considered it a temporary assignment.

Rockefeller is trying to get a bill through the special session of the General Assembly that would qualify Davis for the job. Davis currently is the governor's consultant on highway safety.

Committee Recommends Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Senate committee expressed preference today for the state Legislative Council's constitutional convention bill while a House committee decided to let the issue be fought out on the floor.

The Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee put a "do pass" recommendation on the council bill and sent a bill drawn by the Constitutional Revision Study Commission back to the Senate without recommendation.

The House Judiciary Committee voted "do pass" on both bills and still another, a measure drawn up by a special committee appointed by House Speaker Sterling Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock.

Rep. Harry Colay of Magnolia, chairman of the House committee, explained before his committee voted on the bill that the committee had only two choices, "do pass" or killing a bill with a "do not pass" recommendation. House rules prevent sending out a bill without recommendation.

"Let it be fought out on the floor out there," said Rep. Chad Currett of El Dorado.

Murton Gets Go-ahead on Gravedigging

By TOMMY YATES

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton, given a free hand Wednesday by the state Prison Board to dig for more bodies in unmarked graves at both Cummins and Tucker Prison Farms, said he was "going ahead and bringing them all up."

Murton said that before digging would begin he would follow the board's recommendation to first establish pauper cemeteries at both prisons for reburial purposes.

Homemakers Told How to Improve

Hempstead County Extension Homemakers club officers heard suggestions last week for directing leadership toward promoting better Extension Homemaker programs in 1968. Thirty officers met in the Extension office conference room.

Mrs. Wilton Mullins, County Extension Homemaker President, introduced Mrs. Ernest Graham, Southwest District E. H. Director, to open the leadership training. Mrs. Graham challenged the homemaker leaders to use resources available to them to improve homes and communities. She described the Extension Homemaker program as a unique educational program of offering up-to-date reliable information on most any subject.

Mary Anita Lassler, Hope Star Feature Writer and of KXAR Between Us Girls, encouraged the E. H. Public Information Chairmen to share news about their program of learning and advised on techniques of news writing and radio broadcasting.

Mrs. Verner McMurtrey, past E. H. president, discussed the responsibilities of the club presidents and suggestions for club improvement. Mrs. James Ellis, County E. H. Vice-President, described this officer responsibility as that for good organized programs and promoting expanded membership to include those homemakers needing programs.

Mrs. Lyle Allen, County E. H. Secretary-Treasurer, encouraged club secretaries to give satisfaction to the organization through more efficient and effective service. Mrs. Allen inspired the group with a devotion to begin everything with God's Leadership.

Mrs. Graham assisted with a training conference in Prescott last Thursday for the Nevada County E. H. officers.

Explosion in Chicago Kills Five

By D. M. KRISHNER
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Fire and a series of explosions ripped a sausage factory Wednesday killing five persons and injuring 78. Two persons were reported missing and were feared buried in the rubble. They are Roy R. Laidly, 61, company president, and an unidentified woman employee.

Three of the dead and 18 of the injured were firemen who were fighting the blaze when the main explosion shattered the building. A policeman said the blast hurled bodies of firemen and workers across a street. "People were running, falling, screaming everywhere," said Frank Shear, 52, general manager of the plant. "You could see bodies going up in the air."

A bystander, Charles Peppers, 23, said he saw a boy, about 10, with a badly cut face run out of a damaged house across the street from the factory.

"Help me, mister, help me!" the kid was screaming," Peppers said. "I lifted him over a fence but he ran away and I couldn't catch him."

Windows were shattered in buildings and cars a block from the Mickleberry Sausage Co., located on the South Side, near the International Amphitheatre. Cars parked on streets along the building and in a used car lot across the street were battered by the debris.

Johnson's aid figures in his budget message last month have already said they intend to cut again. Rising federal spending, the dollar drain, criticism of the administration's Vietnam policy and demands for more outlays for social welfare at home have added to pressure for reducing the overseas program.

wants desperately to find a way to resolve international problems without going to war.

Q. What does the public want to do in Vietnam?

A. First, only a small number just want to pull out tomorrow. On the other hand, that small group is balanced by about the same number of people who would end the war by starting to drop nuclear bombs. The views of the great majority of the people fall in between these two extremes.

A few months ago, we submitted seven different proposals that had been presented for resolving the war. The one most widely supported (by 71 per cent of the people) is one that would have our Army officers start doing a job of really training the South Vietnamese, bringing them up to fighting level, then phasing out our own operations. Within a period of time, they would be carrying the burden. We would still be supporting them. Most people see that sooner or later this plan has to be adopted. We can't stay there forever and prop them up.

The second most popular plan calls for turning over the whole problem to the United Nations, even if the United Nations tells us we must get out. Of the two plans, I think myself that the first one is more practical—to phase out.

Union Pacific New Target of Rail Union

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Union Pacific Railroad is the latest target for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in seeking larger train crews through strikes and a court order.

A decision was expected in Lincoln, Neb., today on a brotherhood request for a temporary restraining order against Union Pacific's plan to reduce train crews. Attorney Jack Bardgett of St. Louis, Mo., said if the order is not granted in U.S. District Court, the union would have no choice but to withdraw its members from work.

The union struck Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific lines Monday night and extended the strike to the seaboard coast line Tuesday.

At MOPAC headquarters in St. Louis, Public Relations Director Harry Hammer said the

It's Not All Head-knocking for Lawmakers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A legislative session is not all hard work and head-knocking as Arkansas lawmakers learned Wednesday night at a party given for them by the city of Springdale.

The atmosphere was so convivial that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller shook hands and exchanged pleasantries with a man who might oppose him this year, insurance company executive Frank Whitbeck.

Music by two hillbilly bands and jokes by Springdale Mayor Park Phillips kept the legislators entertained after a dinner of smothered chicken and rice. This was the second legislative party held by Springdale and the Springdale Chamber of Commerce and members of a delegation of 100 which came from Northwest Arkansas for the event said they hope it becomes a legislative tradition. The first party was held during the 1937 regular session.

The Skunk Holler Gang, a Springdale group, and the Bald Knobbers of Branson, Mo., did the picking and singing, leading Rockefeller to remark, "This cultural stimulation will carry me through days and days, I'm sure."

At a social hour preceding the dinner, Rockefeller shook hands with two old political foes, Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins and former Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem, and he quipped, "It's like old home week."

The mood of the crowd was demonstrated when Phillips got rousing applause simply for saying that he would not talk for 35 minutes.

In a touch of topical humor, Strawberry Terry, lead singer for the Skunk Holler Gang, said his group didn't work regularly but that it had an offer to play every Saturday night at a big farm owned by a fellow named Cummins and another offer from a farmer named Tucker.

Legislators, some of who have expressed outrage at the recent announcement that dances would be held at the state prison farms, roared with laughter.

union was attempting to drag a red herring, the safety issue, through the dialogue surrounding the strike.

to $6,300 just before I came home."

"It scares you a little at first, but I knew I had to operate normally because if the villagers saw you were afraid, you would lose their respect," he said.

While rewards for village leaders and American personnel are not uncommon, the amount on Murrel was considered extremely high.

Back home, Murrel maintains that pacification programs similar to the one at Tuy Loan are the real keys to victory in Vietnam. "Although, of course, the field action is necessary too."

As for being a Negro, Murrel said "You know, that was never discussed in our platoon. We just hung together in a dangerous situation and there was no prejudice."

He said he disagreed with antiwar demonstrators but said that they had a right to their views and that reports of their activities had never hurt morale in Vietnam.

"That's one of the reasons I was fighting, to protect their freedom to demonstrate."

Woman Kills 5 of Family, Ruled Insane

CORDELE, Ga. (AP) — Janie Lou Gibbs has been declared insane after she admitted killing five members of her family with arsenic.

Mrs. Gibbs, 35, showed no emotion Wednesday as the Superior Court jury's verdict was read. A psychiatrist said the plump matron had explained the deaths by speaking of a need "to do something in a compulsive manner which she could not explain."

The jury deliberated 40 minutes before committing Mrs. Gibbs to a state mental hospital, thus ruling out a murder trial on a charge of killing her son, 19-year-old Roger Gibbs, with several milligrams of arsenic.

But the young grandmother could face trial on the charges in the future if ever judged sane.

Two other sons, a grandson and the accused woman's husband, died within the past two years.

The psychiatrist, Dr. Allen Turner of Albany, Ga., said in the report Mrs. Gibbs suffered from a type of schizophrenia, and that life and death had no normal meaning for her.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WILL THE REAL THIEF PLEASE STAND UP

Dear Helen:

Recently my mother caught me in a small white lie.

A few days afterwards she noticed that one of her mailings containing two dollars was missing. She looked for it and found it in my older brother's drawer under lots of papers and trash.

My mother said my brother couldn't have done it, and I was guilty because I lied before. So I am being punished twice - once for "stealing," and once for trying to stick the blame on him. I didn't do any of it. What would you do if this happened in your family? - NOT GUILTY

Dear N.G.:

If the money was still in the envelope, I'd concede the letter might have been picked up with the boy's "trash" by mistake, and I'd give both kids the benefit of the doubt. Nuttier misplacements than this happen at our house all the time.

If the money was missing, I'd still make no judgment without proof, but I'd make sure the kids were aware of my sharp eagle eye, so that the first theft would be the last one. - H.

Dear Helen:

I can't recall that you were ever asked this question. Suppose you were a girl of 17 and you met this seemingly nice guy at a restaurant and he asked to take you out.

I see him every once in a while, but I don't know anything about him. Should I take a chance and date him, or can you trust anyone?

Extension Service Is for Everyone

Because of the complexity of our society the problems of agriculture and family living can no longer be confined to the farm. Social and economic problems reach far beyond the boundaries of individual farms or even communities.

The Extension Service's educational program is available to anyone or any group and educational programs will be developed in cooperation with them regardless to their social or economic status.

The University of Arkansas' Agricultural Extension Service was established to provide educational assistance on agriculture and family living and related subjects for all persons in the state. Calvin Caldwell, County Extension Agent, explains.

The Extension Service is unique among state and federal agencies since it is supported jointly by federal, state and county governments. It has direct ties through the Federal Extension Service, to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and serves as the educational arm of the department. County governments provide some financial assistance for operating expenses and contribute to salaries of county Extension employees.

Because of this joint support the Extension Service must operate under both state and federal laws. In complying with these laws and regulations the Extension Service works with many of the government programs which are directed toward resource development as well as in the traditional area of agriculture and home economics. Extension personnel has always worked with all persons and although much emphasis is now placed on working with minority groups it does not effect the basic program, since Extension has always included these in its educational endeavors and will continue to serve all persons where its help is needed and requested. In complying with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 all Extension's activities, publications and services are available to all persons regardless of race, color or national origin.

Extensions primary goal is to assist the people of Arkansas with educational programs that will help them attain higher incomes and provide more job opportunities and improved family living for all.

Mr. Caldwell said that Hempstead County program was based on the same philosophy and that Extension personnel was available to work with all persons.

I can remember sitting on my father's lap in Brooklyn while he read the jokes to me. That's what we called them: the 'jokes,' not comics or funnies."

"He used to follow the words with a toothpick. I got so that I would take a toothpick to him and say, 'Read me the jokes.'"

Everyone else has some early memory of encounters with the funny papers. I can recall the long ago days when Los Angeles and Hollywood had eight daily newspapers, each with a page of comics. My father brought all of the papers home, and I could spread them on the floor and gorge myself with funnies.

Such memories will be jogged Sunday night when NBC presents "The Fabulous Funnies" as a special pre-empting "Bonanza." Executive producer is Lee Mendelson, who has had much success with the "Charlie Brown" specials.

"Mendelson is the one who approached me," said Reiner. "He did it in a most effective way. He said that he had presented a list of 12 possible emcees for the

Stewardesses Win Round

LOS ANGELES (AP) - "We're going to continue fighting the good fight because we're convinced we're right," says a spokesman for United Air Lines after losing a round in its battle to keep stewardesses single.

United fired three stewardesses on grounds of misconduct after they secretly married, but the stewardesses maintained they were improperly fired and deserved state jobless benefits.

The California Unemployment Appeals Board has ruled in the stewardesses' favor, saying California law voids any contract restraining marriage of an adult.

Though some airlines permit stewardesses to marry, United is against it.

show to the National Cartoonist Society members.

"He told me that the others were said to be 'too old' or 'not funny' or whatever. Ninety per cent of the members voted for me. Well, that's pretty hard to resist."

Reiner not only narrates the special; he also provides voices for all of the comic characters, including Little Orphan Annie and Brenda Starr. He also becomes a cartoon figure himself. As he talks, he becomes a drawn caricature of himself, then he wanders into the comics strips and the characters come alive. Among them: Nancy, Prince Valiant, Henry, Dick Tracy, Peanuts.

Body of Actor Nick Adams Is Found

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The body of actor Nick Adams was found Wednesday night in an upstairs bedroom of the West Los Angeles home where he lived alone.

The cause of death was tentatively listed as natural. An autopsy was scheduled. Police said there were no marks on the body.

Adams, 36, was the star of television's "The Rebel" several seasons back and appeared in a number of movies.

The actor's lawyer, Ervin Roder, said he climbed through a rear window because the door was locked and found Adams' fully clothed body sprawled on an unmade bed.

Adams and his estranged wife, actress Carol Nugent, became involved in cross divorce suits. For a time Adams had custody of their two children, Allyson, 7, and Jeb Stuart, 6. A date for their divorce trial was pending, Miss Nugent's lawyer said.

The news of his death "upset her extremely," her attorney added.

Adams was born July 10, 1931, in Nanticoke, Pa. His father was a coal miner and during the Depression Nick and his brothers were shunted to relatives. His real name was Nicholas Adamchuck.

Key Games on Weekend for Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Now past the halfway mark in conference play, the Hope Bobcats head into the final turn before the 4-AA wide tournament with two important home games this weekend.

Tomorrow night brings the slumping Texarkana Washington Lions to Jones Field House for junior and senior games, beginning at 6:30 p.m. The Lions are presently 4-3 in district play, still good enough for second in the 4-AA West Division.

Saturday evening brings the Camden Lincoln Wildcats into town for another pair of contests, and Lincoln has a couple of shooters that rank with the best around. Earlier the Bobcats dropped a 51-40 decision to the Wildcats at Camden.

Now 2-6 in region play, the Bobcats are practically out of the round-robin championship fight, but six more big district games remain. This gives Hope three more weeks in which to gather up forces before the district tourney late this month, which determines the four state tournament representatives from 4-AA.

This will be the first conference meet in several years, as for the past few seasons the round-robin records alone had determined who went to state. Therefore two wins in the final tourney would stick a team in the semifinals, thus assuring a state berth.

Straying away from basketball a bit, I would like to mention that the spring sports are not far off, as the HHS track and golf teams began pre-season practicing this week.

The Hope High tracksters should have their best year ever on the new track's third spring. Most of last year's squad is back, and many good performers move up from a strong Bobkitten team of a year ago. Head Coach Ronnie Higgins will be in charge of the track program, and he has a full schedule of meets which will be listed soon in this column.

Also, the Hope golfers began working out this week at Hope Country Club. Coach Jim Jordan will direct the team, which is returning three lettermen for the four-man squad. The golf matches will be harder to report, since this writer is one of those returning lettermen.

The team will take on many more matches this year than the last, when the locals were 2-3. This season the golfers likely will have around 16 matches, and this added competition could allow Hope to improve from 4th in the conference of last year.

San Diego Golf Cast Is Familiar

By BOB MYERS

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The cast of golf stars was familiar, led by Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper, but the setting and the name of the tournament were new as play began today in the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open.

The scene is the 6,792-yard, par 36-36-72 Torrey Pines Golf Club course, overlooking the Pacific Ocean. It had never been used in the 15 years of this winter event.

Singer Andy Williams' name was pinned to the tourney in keeping with the trend toward entertainment personalities emerging into golf sponsorship prominence. Before it was always just the

LSU Player Packing in the Crowds

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You could call Pistol Pete Maravich the Babe Ruth of college basketball.

He draws the fans to watch his fantastic shooting in much the same manner as the late Sultan of Swat did baseball fans when he was hitting home runs for the New York Yankees.

Whether his team wins or loses, the sophomore sensation for Louisiana State has been getting his average of 45 points per game with several bursts of 50 or more points.

Maravich did it again Wednesday night even though LSU lost on the road to Auburn 74-69. He threw in 49 points, including a streak of 25 in a row at the start of the second half, and set a southeastern Conference season scoring record of 793 with eight games still to play.

"It was just an average game," Maravich said after he had erased Bob Pettit's old SEC scoring mark. Pettit, former LSU All-American, tallied 785 points in 25 games during the 1954 season.

Maravich's 25 points in a row is believed to be a national collegiate record. In fact, he accounted for 31 of LSU's 37 points in the second half.

Maravich's heroics overshadowed the 72-71 squeaker sixth-ranked New Mexico scored over 10th-ranked New Mexico State in the only game involving teams in The Associated Press Top Ten.

Greg Howard's free throw in the closing seconds gave the Lobos the victory in the sea-saw struggle on their home court at Albuquerque, N.M.

Howard, who had been thrown out of two games already this year, one last Saturday when Arizona ended New Mexico's 17-game winning streak, said the Aggies tried to get him mad by crowding him.

"I wasn't about to get thrown out of this game," Howard said later. "I just told the referee about it."

Ron Sanford, with 23 points, paced the Lobos, who at one time led by nine points at 63-54 with six minutes left. The Aggies rallied to tie at 71-71 on Bob Evans' free throw with eight seconds on the clock before Howard was fouled and converted the winning point.

New Mexico's season record now is 18-1, New Mexico State 17-3.

Don May scored 21 points, including four straight baskets at the start of the second half, to pace Dayton to a 64-56 home court triumph over Xavier of Ohio.

In other major games, all home court successes, Louisville edged Drake 67-66, Toledo drubbed Western Michigan 83-71, Navy downed Georgetown, D.C., 89-85 in overtime, Temple defeated St. John's of New York 62-55 and Iowa whipped Purdue 94-87 despite 31 points in a losing cause by Rick Mount.

Also Cincinnati took Wichita State 99-85, Marquette conquered Chicago Loyola 71-57, and Holy Cross vanquished Fordham 85-76 behind Ed Studdt's 36 points.

On the road, Marshall eked out a 69-68 victory over Miami of Ohio and Bowling Green whipped Ohio U. 78-68.

West Virginia overcame Georgia Tech 79-75 at Charleston, W.Va., while at Arlington, Va., George Washington beat Virginia Military 60-59 on Garland Pinkston's basket from the corner in the last two seconds.

Unbeaten Long Island, No. 1 in The AP small college poll, made it 15 in a row by edging Rider 55-52 at Trenton, N.J.

Howell Hits at Buzzer for Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

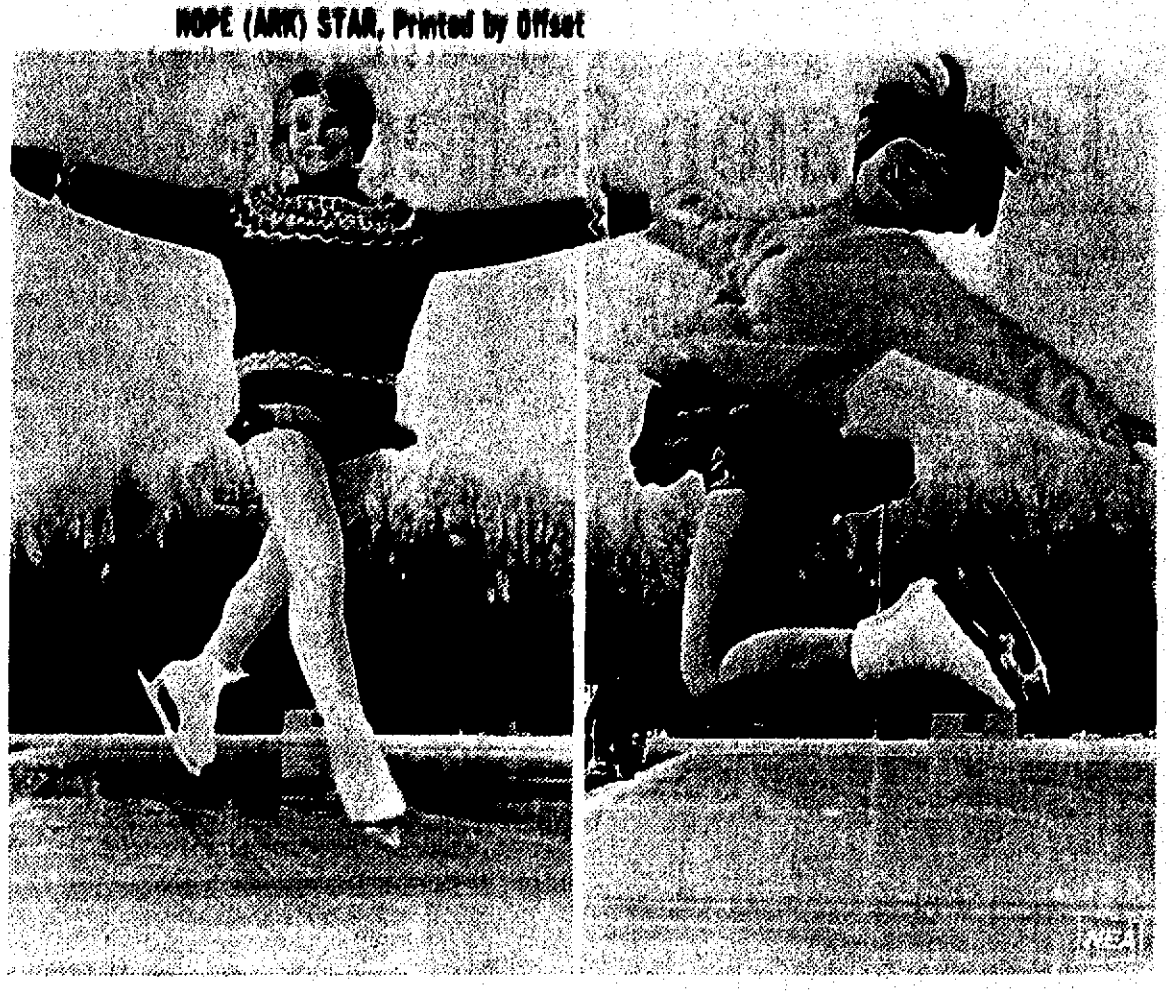

The St. Louis Hawks had the Boston Celtics right where they wanted them. At least, they thought they had.

There were six seconds left in the National Basketball Association game at Boston Wednesday night, and St. Louis had a 101-100 lead and the ball out of bounds.

But, the Hawks threw the in-bounds pass out of bounds and Boston took over. The Celtics set up Bailey Howell, and his shot went in at the buzzer for a 102-101 Boston victory.

In the first game of a double-header at Boston, Philadelphia trounced San Diego 125-103. New York edged the Bulls 114-111 at Baltimore in the only other NBA game.

In the nightcap at Boston, the score was tied 97-97 with a minute to go when St. Louis' Len Wilkens sank four straight foul shots to put the Hawks in front 101-97.

John Havlicek then cut it to 101-98 on a foul shot and Larry Siegfried narrowed it to 101-100 with a basket.

Sam Jones scored 27 points for the Celtics, who stayed 3 1/2 games behind 1st-place Philadelphia in the Eastern Division.

Hal Greer poured in 27 points and Wilt Chamberlain controlled the backboards as Philadelphia handed San Diego its 10th straight defeat. Don Kojis topped San Diego with 18 points.

New York took over late in the third quarter and fought off a closing Baltimore spurt for its victory. Walt Bellamy scored 32 points and grabbed 21 rebounds for New York. Earl Monroe led Baltimore with 30 points.

Puck Lost to Everyone for a Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Small and elusive, a National Hockey League puck can be difficult to follow.

John McKenzie and the Boston Bruins were certain they had seen it go into the St. Louis net, Al Arbour and the St. Louis Blues would swear it didn't and referee Bob Sloan wasn't exactly sure.

It all happened in a wild third period ruckus during Boston's 6-4 victory over the Blues Wednesday night. In other games, Montreal dropped Philadelphia 4-1, Chicago shaded Toronto 3-2, Pittsburgh turned back Oakland 4-1 and Minnesota overcame Los Angeles 4-2.

Ed Westfall's three-goal hat trick for the Bruins was overshadowed by the lengthy argument precipitated by McKenzie's goal.

The Boston right winger broke down the right side and shot from about 18 feet out. The puck apparently entered the St. Louis net and bounced out. As McKenzie raised his stick in the traditional salute to a goal, St. Louis defenseman Arbour skated off with the puck. The red light snuffing a goal never went on and Arbour skated towards the Boston net and beat goalie Ed Johnston.

The Bruins' bench exploded and, led by Coach Harry Sinden, rushed Sloan and goal judge Rich Swigel. Moments later, Sloan reversed the call, awarding the goal to McKenzie and disallowing Arbour's.

Now the Blues argued and Arbour and Barclay Plager wound up with 10-minute misconduct penalties. Plager also drew a game misconduct. St. Louis fans threw debris on the ice and it took 17 minutes before the game was resumed.

Hope Girls, DeQueen Here Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

After a near two weeks lay-off, the Hope Lady Cats return to action this evening at DeQueen, taking on the Leopards at 6:45 p.m.

The Lady Cats, 19-4 for the season, had previously scheduled this game for Friday afternoon, but Coach Charlotte Gibson announced the change yesterday afternoon. And it should be a welcome after about ten practices of scrimmaging each other to play another team.

After a team, especially on a girls team with guards and forwards, with enough scrimmaging each person knows exactly what everyone else is going to do. And on a good team like the Lady Cats, this could bring along frustration.

DeQueen has a fair ball club, even though they were beaten by Prescott, whom the Lady Cats have defeated several times. And they could play the Hope girls again in the district semifinals, should they beat Prescott in the first round.

Hope's first action in next week's big District 7-A West Senior Girls tournament at Prescott will come in the semis on Friday night, as the Lady Cats play the winner of a game to be played between Prescott and DeQueen a couple of days before. That is, presumably West Division.

Gump Worsley returned to the nets for Montreal and sparked the victory, making several key saves in a scoreless first period. Bobby Rousseau and Ted Harris scored 32 seconds apart in the second period and the Canadiens led the rest of the way.

Rookie Paul Terbenche's third period goal gave Chicago its comeback victory over Toronto and kept the Black Hawks just two points back of Montreal in the East race.

The Hull brothers, Dennis and Bobby, scored second period goals that wiped out an early 2-0 deficit against the Leafs.

Long Island Increased Its Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Long Island University's unbeaten and top-ranked Blackbirds have increased their margin of support in The Associated Press' weekly small college basketball poll.

The Blackbirds topped three more teams last week to boost their record to 14-0 through games of last Saturday.

As a result, LIU received seven first-place votes from the national panel of 16 sports writers and sportscasters and a total of 144 points. This gave them a 16-point margin over Evansville's Aces, who received three first-place votes and 128 points.

The Aces won their two games last week for a 15-2 record. In last week's poll, Evansville just trailed LIU by five points.

Kentucky Wesleyan 12-3, Southwest Missouri 12-3, and Southwestern Louisiana 12-2, also won all of their games last week and maintained their 3-4-5 positions.

But Indiana State, ranked sixth a week ago, was beaten by Evansville and DePaul and fell right out of the Top Ten's list with a 13-7 record.

McNeese State College of Lake Charles, La., 16-2, which was unranked, filled the gap in the No. 9 spot.

Trinity, Tex., 15-4, moved up from seventh to sixth and unbeaten Norfolk State, 15-0, advanced from ninth to seventh. Guilford, 14-1, and Pan American, 13-4, maintained their eighth and 10th positions, respectively.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, through games of Sat. Feb. 3, and total points.

Pipers Are Lost Without Con Hawkins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Life for the Pittsburgh Pipers without Connie Hawkins has been miserable, miserable enough to drop them out of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association.

Hawkins, the league's second leading scorer, left the line-up with a blood clot in the leg last week and the Pipers have won only one game in four since he left.

Their third straight loss came Wednesday night when Houston pounded them 133-112 in Houston and the Pipers fell a half game behind the Minnesota.

In other games, Indiana won its fifth in a row by slipping past visiting New Jersey 106-105. Denver beat Dallas 97-87 at home and New Orleans whipped host Oakland 111-107.

In the National Basketball Association, Boston nipped St. Louis 102-101. Philadelphia pounced on San Diego 125-103 and New York crept past Baltimore 114-111.

Houston, last in the Western Division, set a club record with its 133 points as it took an early lead and pulled away under Willie Somerset's 28 points. Chico Vaughn had 30 for Pittsburgh, which also missed the rebounding of the 6-foot-9 Hawkins.

Indiana continued its rebound from a seven-game losing streak as 7-foot Reggie Harding, acquired two weeks ago, scored 18 points and grabbed 27 rebounds. Bob Netolicky added 30 points.

New Jersey had pulled within 102-100 with 2:06 left when Harding hit two free throws and fed Oliver Darden for a layup before the Americans scored the last three points.

Denver broke a four-game losing string in its bruising defensive battle. The Rockets led most of the way and Dallas got no closer than seven points in the last period.

Larry Jones led Denver with 20 points. Maurice McHartley topped Dallas with 26.

Doug Moe scored 36 points and Larry Brown contributed 30 in New Orleans' victory over Oakland. The Buccaneers pulled ahead by 17 points before the Oaks drew within 109-107 with 17 seconds to go as Steve Jones connected on a pair of three-point baskets.

Brown then converted a pair of free throws with nine seconds remaining to put the Bucs safely in front.

Encouraged by Release of Names

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield calls North Korea's identification of the USS Pueblo's dead and wounded an encouraging sign the crew may be released. But the State Department cautions against expecting a quick follow-up.

Mansfield said in an interview he is optimistic because Panmunjom negotiations with the Communists are "being carried out on a reasonable level without the usual vituperation from the other side."

"I think that the North Koreans' release of the names of the dead and wounded is an encouraging sign that we may get the crew members back," he said.

Mansfield, being briefed daily by the Johnson administration said he regards as significant the U.S. removal of the aircraft carrier Enterprise from the sea of Japan, where it was stationed after the North Koreans captured the intelligence-gathering Pueblo and her 83-man crew.

Sources at the United Nations said removal of the Enterprise was suggested to the United States last week by Hungary's U.N. Ambassador Karoly Csar, who said it would be a conciliatory gesture.

Still sailing in the Sea of Japan are two other American carriers, plus destroyers and support ships, with about 20 vessels making up the force.

Meanwhile, the Soviets have moved 10 or 15 warships into the same area.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey called "positive" the furnishing of the list of the Pueblo's dead and injured.

But he added: "I don't want that act to lead to an assumption that we feel a breakthrough or a conclusion of this case is in any way imminent." Additional meetings are expected to be held with the North Koreans, he said.

Chief U.S. negotiator at Panmunjom is Rear Adm. John V. Smith. Pentagon sources said he is due to be replaced by April 1, in what they called a routine change, by Army Brig. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward.

Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., deploring the death of an Oregon man in the seizure of the Pueblo said "It raises the question: Is what we are accomplishing worth the price we are paying?"

"What in North Korea was worth risking our ship and its men and the chances of setting off an even greater war?" Hatfield asked.

The Bank of America, the nation's largest commercial bank, cites a survey that shows more than 100 of America's 500 largest corporations have some sort of oceanographic interest. Another estimate puts the percentage at 60.

The exploration is not only by private companies either. It is estimated that more than 30 federal agencies and 35 congressional committees are involved, as well as 30 states, 60 other nations, and almost every American university within 100 miles

Delivering the GOODS!

INCOMING OR OUTGOING, we're equipped to take care of your shipments, from a carton to a trainload. And our service is linked not only with other railroads, but with truck and steamship lines as well.

Container freight is a growing aspect of our business. It involves the use of large protective units in which freight of all kinds, including perishables, is packed and sealed at your plant, for removal only by the receiver.

This method nullifies pilferage, reduces the possibility of damage and saves shipping costs, especially on export and import shipments.

Yes, we're in business to deliver your goods, and we'll appreciate the opportunity of working with you. A call to our local office will start your freight to rolling.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Marijuana has become one of the most controversial subjects of the day. Unlike morphine, cocaine and the barbiturates, it has no medicinal value. It causes psychological dependence rather than true addiction or physical dependence. A derivative of the hemp plant, Cannabis sativa, it has been known for many centuries under such names as hashish, bang and dagga. Although traffic in the drug is illegal, control is difficult because the hemp grows so readily in all parts of the world.

The smoke from cigarettes containing marijuana, when inhaled, is irritating and frequent use causes chronic bronchitis. It also affects the brain, but not in any consistent or predictable way. This effect, when it is felt, occurs within a few minutes and may last for 10 to 12 hours. Some habitual users of this drug develop mental disease, but it is possible that persons with a tendency to develop a psychosis are more easily lured into using the drug than are normal persons.

The fact that many young persons today are trying marijuana just for kicks is a sad commentary on their motivation toward more worthwhile goals and their total lack of inner resources. As a noted psychiatrist has said, "You don't need drugs to give you an awareness of the wonders of the world. All you need is rapt attention to your surroundings." The rumor has gotten around that smoking marijuana improves one's creative and artistic ability, but scientific observation fails to substantiate such a claim.

Since the use of marijuana does not cause a physical dependence, there are no torturous withdrawal symptoms when its use is discontinued. That, however, does not eliminate the problems of psychological dependence. Chronic users of the drug who give it up relapse about as often as users of heroin. Psychological dependence of any kind is an indication of a serious personality problem that can be solved only when it is determined what it is that is really bothering the victim consciously, subconsciously or both. For such a determination, expert psychiatric help may be necessary.

Youth on Bike Killed by Motorist

Jerry Wayne Brown, 15, of near Emmet in Nevada County, was killed early last night in a car-bike accident at the Highway 73-4 junction just north of Hope. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Brown.

Young Brown and a companion, Ronnie Thompson, were riding bikes enroute to the Thompson home. An auto driven by Ralph Byers, 19, struck the bike, instantly killing the boy.

Byers told officers his view was impaired by the lights of an oncoming car and he didn't see either boy. Thompson managed to get off the highway.

Hempstead Coroner J. T. Honeycutt ruled that death was unavoidable. No charges were filed. The investigation was carried out by State Policeman Robert Neal.

He is survived by his parents, Franklin W. Brown, his mother, Anita M. Brown, three brothers, Franklin Lee, Tommy Joe, and Billy Ray Brown; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown and Louie Richardson of Dallas.

Services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at Oakcrest Chapel. Burial in Centerville Cemetery. The Rev. Harley Sisson will officiate. Oakcrest Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Another Cold Front Is Moving in

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Another surge of cold air is moving out of Canada today and is expected to reinforce the cool, dry air mass already over Arkansas by Friday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said today Arkansas could expect mostly sunny days and clear nights, but that temperatures would remain rather cool. Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 16 degrees at Fayetteville to 27 at Pine Bluff. High temperatures Wednesday ranged from 34 at Walnut Ridge to 50 at Texarkana.

No rainfall was reported in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today, but light snow was reported early this morning in Northwest Arkansas.

Looking Back Brightens Today, Softens Harsh Reality of Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a wakening dream.

Johnson Rebukes Rep. Matthews

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee, Jim Johnson, Wednesday rebuked Rep. Chalmers Matthews of North Little Rock for remarks made Tuesday by Matthews in Fort Smith.

Matthews said Democrats had no choice but to go along with Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller in 1966 because electing Jim Johnson "would put Arkansas into a limbo."

"I'm not going to answer to that little ole boy," Johnson said.

Davis Bill Snagged by Amendments

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller refused Wednesday to compromise on his desire to have a special legislative session make Lynn A. Davis immediately eligible to serve again as State Police director.

The House State Agencies Committee greeted the governor's stand by attaching an amendment to a bill which would make Davis eligible in mid-July and sending it out with a "do pass as amended" recommendation.

Meanwhile the Senate Judiciary Committee sent its Davis bill back without recommendation or amendment but six senators were prepared to present amendments which would prevent Davis from taking the position immediately.

In other action, the House surprisingly passed without opposition a bill modifying Act 113 of 1967, the controversial measure that exempts some industrial machinery and equipment from the 3-per-cent sales and use tax.

The House also passed a bill merging the four existing training schools and their boards and a bill to allow Texarkana to levy a one per cent sales tax with approval in a local option election.

The Senate spent about two hours wrangling over a bill that would reimburse Rockefeller's contingency fund for $125,000 he advanced for an Arkansas exhibit at this year's HemisFair in San Antonio, Tex.

Foreign Aid Bill to Find Tough Going

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for $3 billion in foreign aid, including a special $100 million in immediate military assistance for South Korea.

Saying threats against South Korea from the North call for strengthened defenses of "this steadfast ally," Johnson said the $100 million would be used for planes, antiaircraft equipment, naval radar, patrol craft, ammunition and other supplies.

Seoul has asked the United States for added American help since recent Communist incursions across its border.

In his message to Congress today, Johnson did not mention North Korea's seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo and its 83-man crew.

The presidential request for foreign aid in the fiscal year starting next July 1 came to $2.9 billion—$2.5 billion in economic assistance and $420 million for military aid.

Another $120 million in arms aid will be sought through separate legislation.

"The programs I propose today are as important and as essential to the security of this nation as our military defenses," Johnson said.

But there were advance indications of more trouble for the big aid bill on Capitol Hill.

Congress chopped nearly $1 billion from the $3.2 billion arms-economic assistance Johnson sought for the current fiscal year.

His new request is about $750 million more than what the lawmakers were willing to hand him last year for the overseas program.

Johnson contended the billions for helping less developed countries around the world are needed because "peace will never be

Declares Red Navigation Not Feasible

Navigation of Red River is not economically feasible at this time, according to the report of the Red River Basin Coordinating Committee given at a public hearing Wednesday in Texarkana. However the project is still being considered as a possible future program within the next 10 to 15 years.

The committee, headed by Col. Thomas J. Bowen of the Corps of Engineers and composed of representatives from various federal agencies and from the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas, made its report with maps and slides to over 500 visitors and representatives of interested groups in the Texarkana College Auditorium.

The study made by the committee was to determine the feasibility of short and long term water and related land resource needs in the basin; to formulate a plan of development to provide for the best use, or uses of the resources of the basin to meet these needs; to determine what projects or programs within the next 10 to 15 years and tentatively appraise the extent of federal participation in these projects or programs.

The plan for navigation of the Red River is one of 10 projects considered in the 10-15 year period. Other future projects discussed of interest to this area were the Liberty Hill Reservoir near New Boston on Mud Creek; Acworth Reservoir and Pine Springs Reservoir, both near Clarksville, Texas; New Zion Reservoir also near New Boston; Horatio Reservoir near Foreman, Ark.; two reservoirs near Menard, Ark.; one near DeQueen and one near Dierks.

The Liberty Hill Reservoir would take in 7070 acres and would provide 30 million gallons of water a day. Located on Mud Creek near New Boston, the reservoir would be for water supply, recreation and fish and wildlife conservation. Flood control is not a consideration. The cost would be $14,200,000.

Sergeant With $6,300 Price Tag on His Head Still Wanted by Cong

By HERBERT G. PELKEY
Associated Press Writer
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Melvin Murrel, the "Black Sergeant of Tuy Loan" who had a $6,300 price put on his head by the Viet Cong, is back home—still a wanted man.

This time, by private, civic and service organizations that have besieged the Marine hero with requests to speak to them of his experiences in Vietnam.

"It has kept me pretty busy and I still am a little up in the air about the future," says the tall Negro who was discharged last month after two tours of duty in the Southeast Asian country.

Murrel, who less than two months ago faced a daily diet of combat, terror, hardship and little sleep, has found his early days as a civilian safer but just as hectic.

Since his discharge, he has married his high school sweetheart, corresponded with Marines and Vietnamese villagers, the State Department, colleges and spoken to numerous gatherings.

"I just haven't had time to sort it all out," he said. "I have thought of going back in some civilian capacity, possibly with the U.S. AID mission, but my immediate plans are for college. I'd like to get a political science degree. Then I could be of more help."

At meetings, the man known to the enemy as "Tung-ai den" (The Black Sergeant) or "Tung-sai Mel" (Sergeant Mel) stresses the need for American involve-

Pollster Says People Disillusioned, Want Peace Without War

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) —

Pollster George Gallup, now in his fourth decade of surveying the moods of America, says the public today is confused, disillusioned and cynical and "wants desperately to find a way to resolve international problems without going to war."

"I think this goes back pretty much to their feeling of the inadequacy of the leadership of our country," says the man who founded the Gallup Poll in 1935. Only a handful of Americans wants to pull out of Vietnam, or to "end the war by starting to drop nuclear bombs," Gallup said in an interview.

Seven out of 10 prefer bringing the South Vietnamese "up to fighting level," he said, "then

Judge Odom Seeking a 2nd Term

The Star has been authorized to announce the candidacy of Hempstead County Judge Finkling Odom for re-election. In making his announcement, Mr. Odom issued the following statement:

"In announcing my candidacy for election to a second term as your Hempstead County Judge, I want to again express my appreciation to the citizens of Hempstead County for the opportunity to serve as your County Judge for these two years."

"It is and has been my desire and intention to serve all the citizens of our County in every way possible, with the revenues available for the various projects and programs allocated to Hempstead County. It is my belief that we are making progress in all areas involving our County Government."

"I have been and will continue to cooperate with our state and city officials and organizations, in promoting any program or project that will benefit in any way our citizens, and continued growth and welfare of our County."

"I pledge to you again that if elected to a second term as your Hempstead County Judge, that I will continue to give this office my undivided time and effort in fulfilling the many duties of the County Judge's Office."

ment "to halt communism." "The South Vietnamese need a boost, and the Americans are the people to give it to them," he says.

"If we sell out the Vietnamese, the United States will lose all it has gained in Asia, in the Philippines, in Japan, in Laos, everywhere, because the Asians will know that the United States is only a paper tiger."

Murrel, 21, is the youngest of six children of Mrs. Eulla Mae Smith and the late Sydney Murrel Smith. Born Melvin Murrel Smith, he said he legally changed his name "for no special reason" when he enlisted in 1964 following graduation from Nottingham High School.

The twice-wounded Leatherneck said he volunteered to go back to Vietnam for a second tour in January 1967 because "there was a lot more to be done and I also wanted to find out a little bit more why Americans were there."

As leader of a combined action platoon in the village of Tuy Loan, a few miles south of the big Marine base at Da Nang, Murrel quickly gained the confidence of the villagers and became a thorn in the side of the enemy.

"One day the village kids started bringing in wanted leaflets the VC had scattered in the jungle," he recalled. "At first, it was only for $42.50 but as time went along and we hurt them more it kept going up until it got

The Communist offensive in northwest South Vietnam may have started as North Vietnamese troops make artillery and ground attacks on Khe Sanh after capturing the Lang Vei Special Forces camp.

When the North Vietnamese tanks rumbled out of Laos to attack Lang Vei, the Green Berets thought the strange sound came from the camp's erratic generator.

Nevada Co. Heart March February 11

James Fairchild, overall chairman of the Heart campaign in Nevada County, has set Sunday, February 11 for the heart fund march.

Mr. Fairchild reminded that some 22 million Americans suffer from some form of heart and blood vessel disease and these are responsible for 54 per cent of all deaths in the nation.

Heart disease is by no means and exclusive liability of the elderly. Before 65, diseases of the heart and circulation take more lives than the next five leading causes combined.

The Heart fund makes possible nationwide program of research, education and community service. So welcome the volunteer who calls at your home or business soliciting funds, the Chairman urged.

Enemy May Have Started Big Push

By GEORGE ESFER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The long-expected Communist offensive to drive U.S. forces from the two northernmost provinces of South Vietnam may have started.

North Vietnamese troops made a heavy artillery and ground attack on the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh today after taking the Lang Vei Special Forces camp nearby in the northwest corner of the country.

AP correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from Khe Sanh that the Red gunners fired more than 300 artillery, rocket and mortar rounds into Marine positions there, and North Vietnamese troops drove the Marines from part of a hilltop outpost a mile from the perimeter of the Khe Sanh base.

The Leathernecks counterattacked and, with heavy artillery and air support, drove the North Vietnamese down the hill.

During the attack on Lang Vei Wednesday, the enemy troops ringing Khe Sanh moved in closer to the American lines. Marine officers at the base believed a major assault was imminent on the Marine base and the air strip which is its chief avenue of supply and reinforcement.

Officers at Khe Sanh said the Communists appear bent on a drive to the South China Sea along east-west Route 9, the western end of which Khe Sanh guards.

The last American, South Vietnamese and Montagnard forces were driven from the Lang Vei camp three miles west of Khe Sanh after an 18-hour siege in which the defenders suffered heavy casualties.

Fourteen of the 24 Americans escaped, and eight of them were wounded, some critically. The other 10 were dead, captured or trying to make it to Khe Sanh.

Of about 400 South Vietnamese and Montagnard irregulars in the camp, some 25 wounded were lifted to safety by U.S. helicopters along with the U.S. troops. Nearly 150 more irregulars made it to the Khe Sanh base during the night or today, leaving about 225 dead or missing.

Survivors reported that after a heavy artillery bombardment Tuesday night, the camp was hit on two sides by North Vietnamese tanks being used in the war for the first time, while foot troops came in between them.

The battle ended quickly, but eight of the Americans retreated into the headquarters bunker under three feet of reinforced concrete and two feet of steel. The North Vietnamese hurled small explosive satchel charges and tear gas and incendiary grenades down the air shafts.

The satchel charges did little damage, and the Americans donned their gas masks and put out the fire. Meanwhile, they called in air strike after air strike on the North Vietnamese above.

After 18 hours of siege, six of the eight Americans were wounded and the group decided to break for freedom. While U.S. planes roared down in dummy runs, those who could run picked up the others and broke from the bunker.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., announced Wednesday that the Office of Economic Opportunity has approved a $301,570 grant to Van-Se-Bu-M Opportunities. The agency directs anti-poverty programs in Van Buren, Searcy, Boone and Marion counties.

No Set Number for District

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said Wednesday that a certain number of pupils isn't required to form a new school district. The opinion, written by Asst. Atty. Gen. Lance Hanshaw, said, "I am not aware of any requirement for a school system to have a certain number of pupils in order to have a new and independent district."

Magnolia Choir to Sing Here

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church of Magnolia, Arkansas, will present a program of sacred music Sunday night, February 11, at 6:45 p.m. in the sanctuary of Unity Baptist Church.

The choir is composed of approximately thirty-six singers who are of high school and college age. The Youth choir made their first annual Spring tour this past April singing at churches in Louisiana and Texas. In April of this year, the choir will make a week-end tour through Oklahoma.

They will be presenting programs of sacred music for churches as well as the Baptist Children's Home in Oklahoma City. Accompanying the choir will be the Lines and Spaces. They are a selected group of five young ladies and four gentlemen. This past year they cut their first LP Album and will be singing some of the numbers they recorded.

The choir will present a program of sacred music that is designed to sing the praises of the blessed Savior and to present the gospel in the simplest manner.

The choir is under the direction of Jim Courtney and Mrs. Jim Mosley will be the accompanist.

Shouldn't Have Returned

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Donald Marsh, 48, quit driving taxicabs in December after being held up. He took it up again a month later, saying he wanted to drive only long enough to acquire enough money to start a grocery business. Tuesday he was held up again — and robbed of $17. Wednesday he was found shot to death in his cab — apparently the victim of another robbery, police said.

Bombings Costly But Are Worth the Losses, Declares Commander

Editor's Note: Three years ago today U.S. planes bombed North Vietnam for the first time. Since then the bombing has become a worldwide subject of controversy. Gen. William M. Momyer, who heads the U.S. Air Force's part of the war against the Communist North, defends it in an interview.

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William M. Momyer looked back today on three years of bombing against North Vietnam and concluded that the losses are worthwhile and the effects on the enemy widespread.

The air campaign has kept Hanoi's air force in the North and all North Vietnamese logistics at their most vulnerable point, the commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force said. Without these factors, he suggested, allied losses in "a probable or possible expanded conflict in South Vietnam would more than offset what we've lost in terms of dedicated and heroic airmen in the North."

Regular bombing of the North began three years ago today. From the start, it has aroused international controversy, and last week's Communist attacks on 35 South Vietnam cities again raised such questions as these from critics:

— How effective have the more than 200,000 sorties been in curtailing the flow of military supplies and men to the South when the Communists can mount an attack of such proportions, their biggest offensive of the war to date?

— Is the cost in human life, planes and bombs worth it? Nearly 1,000 airmen have been killed or captured. It costs $283,800 to train a jet fighter pilot. At least 797 planes worth $1.6 billion have been downed over the North. More than one million tons of bombs have been dropped.

Momyer, who is Gen. William C. Westmoreland's deputy commander for all U.S. air operations over Vietnam and Laos gave this sumup of results:

"I think we kept most of the war in the North, in that we prevented his air force from coming down where it was a threat to our forces in South Vietnam. This is a major accomplishment in my judgment. It's permitted us to use concentrated logistical installations like Da Nang, Cam Ranh Bay and the others that otherwise would be very difficult to operate if you didn't have control of the air."

"As the consequence of this air superiority, I think it's given us more latitude to use our forces the way that we wanted to, and at the same time it has

BIG WHEEL offers problems to actor Lloyd Bridges who tries an old-fashioned bike during break in filming "Attack on the Iron Coast," a World War drama.

August Kennedy said the United States can't win the war for the South Vietnamese "no matter how much we bomb North Vietnam."

Momyer's answer is this: "I think the war in the North and the war in the South are all one and the same war. The fighting that we're doing in the South and the bombing that we're doing in the North, I think, have to go on concurrently for us to have the best opportunities of achieving our objectives."

Some advocates of the bombing want the attack on North Vietnam stepped up to include Haiphong's international docks.

"The major problem I have at the moment is getting a stretch of good weather in which I can exploit the target systems that I've got assigned," Momyer said. "Once I've been able to effectively deal with these targets then I think the question of additional targets should be brought under examination."

"At the moment I have a number of targets that have been generated as a result of the bad weather. I'm referring specifically to bridges, marshalling yards and the lines of communications in North Vietnam that are currently shielded because of the weather."

Asked for details of how the bombing is hurting North Vietnam, Momyer observed:

"I think there's a pretty good indication that he's got about 500,000 people tied up one way or another with repairing the lines of communications, reconstructing bridges. He's probably got another 100,000 to another 150,000 tied up with his defense system, so that's about three quarters of a million people that are tied down by the air campaign that otherwise could be utilized. I would think, in supporting forces here in the South, I think this is a direct contribution that the air campaign has made."

"Little bits and pieces of information give me the decided impression that we are having a very adverse effect on all aspects of his civil economy and his military structure."

The North Vietnamese air force is said to still have perhaps 50 or more MIG interceptors and some bombers, but there is no verification that any of these has ever penetrated into the South.

"This is always a threat and of course we try to be prepared for such an eventuality," Momyer says.

Wallace Will Announce Candidacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—George C. Wallace announced today as a third party candidate for president, declaring that neither major party is heading the "wishes of the American people" and pledging "I will run to win."

The former Alabama governor, who withdrew from a similar third-party campaign bid four years ago, told a news conference: "I am in the race irrevocably."

Wallace said he hopes his name will be on the ballot on all 50 states and that he will be able to finance such an effort.

"I believe the American people will finance any effort to give themselves a voice in the affairs of our country," he said.

When he withdrew in 1964, after the Republicans nominated Barry Goldwater for president, he said this showed his message for states rights had been heeded.

Today, Wallace noted he has repeatedly stated that unless the Republicans or Democrats offer the American people what he termed "a real choice in 1968" that he "would lead a political effort which would in fact offer this choice."

"There has been no response from either of the parties which would show the American people that they are heading the growing disillusionment with what amounts to a one-party system in the United States," he said.

He said, "The American people are hungry for a change in the direction of our national government. They are concerned and disturbed about the trends being followed by our national leadership."

He called for an end to "crime running rampant in every city of our nation," for punishment of what he termed

Today's hand has appeared in print many times before. It was played by Belladonna at the European championships at Ostend in 1965 and is really one of the classic safety plays of all time.

He was third hand and reached four spades the same way everyone else did. He just bid it. Unlike the others, he made his contract.

The king of diamonds was opened at each table and every declarer except Belladonna proceeded to lead a heart toward dummy's king. East won with the ace and returned a trump whereupon there was no way to avoid the loss of three heart tricks and the king of trumps.

How did Belladonna make the contract?

It isn't easy to see when you look at all the cards, but he handled it with ease. At trick two he entered dummy with the ace of clubs and played the four of hearts. West won with the queen but could do nothing better than to lead a club. Belladonna ruffed and played a second heart. East was in with the ace and led a trump, but Belladonna rose with the ace, ruffed his last heart and conceded a trick to the king of spades.

It doesn't look like much of a play from here, but just see how effective it was and how sure it was. Suppose for example that East held the queen of hearts. If he ducked with it, the jack would either hold the trick or force the ace; if he rose with it, Belladonna would be left with the jack in his hand and the king in dummy and would have no way to lose two more heart tricks.

Of course, Belladonna's play might have cost him an overtrick in the event that West held the ace of hearts, but the Italians always play for the contract and treat overtricks as just a pleasant luxury.

Q—The bidding has been:

Pass	3 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ 3 2 ♥ K Q J 10 9 7 5 ♦ 6 2 ♣ 8 5

What do you do now?

A—Bid four hearts. This will tell partner that you can play in hearts even if he doesn't have one heart in his hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid four hearts and your partner bids four spades. What do you do now?

Auto Safety Standards to Court

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The battle over auto safety standards, now heating up again in Congress, soon may shift to the Supreme Court.

There the lawyer for an injured young ex-sailor is seeking a ruling that could force auto manufacturers to stop making cars that can zoom 150 and 160 miles an hour. If they did not, they could be held liable to innocent victims of high-speed accidents.

William Haddon Jr., director of the National Highway Safety Bureau, observing that accidents often can be attributed to high speeds, remarked last August:

"We would like to see cars built so that they cannot exceed a certain speed, say, for example, 80 miles an hour."

One of 47 safety standards proposed by the bureau last October was that all cars by 1970 or 1971 be equipped with devices to limit their maximum speed.

At the moment, the governing law on auto accidents is far different from the ruling sought in the appeal of Philip Michael Schemel, the injured ex-sailor from Springfield, Ohio.

Early one April morning in 1964, Schemel, then 19, was stretched out on the back seat of a car traveling a highway outside Oakland City, Ind. Suddenly the car was struck by a 1960 Impala zipping along, according to papers in the case, at 115 miles an hour.

The young sailor was temporarily paralyzed below the neck and later got a medical discharge from the Navy.

His appeal contends General Motors, manufacturer of the Impala, is legally negligent in two ways: (1) For designing a car that can go so fast; (2) For "emphasizing speed" in advertising.

Several courts have held the manufacturer's duty is to avoid hidden defects and latent dangers. The fact that cars can be driven way beyond speed limits has been ruled out as a hidden defect.

Also, the courts have said manufacturers cannot be bound for reckless use of cars.

In October 1966, the Supreme Court would not hear a widow's claim that GM was negligent in designing a station wagon with an "X" frame that did not have side frame rails to protect the driver from a side collision.

And ruling earlier in the same case, the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago declared: "A manufacturer is not under a duty to make his automobile accident-proof or fool-proof."

But there have been dissenters, including Judge Roger J. Kiley, of the Chicago Court when it ruled against Schemel last July.

"In my opinion," he said, "General Motors, as any other person, is chargeable with the duty of reasonably foreseeing the probable dangers of a design and the advertising it has chosen."

If the Supreme Court takes this view, automobiles may never be the same.

Green Beret Loses Fight But Kills Tanks

By JOHN T. WHEELER

Associated Press Writer

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP)—When North Vietnamese tanks rumbled out of Laos Wednesday to attack the Lang Vel Special Forces camp, the U.S. Green Beret troopers inside decided the strange sound came from the camp's erratic generator.

Minutes later the Americans, South Vietnamese and Montagnard tribesmen were battling desperately to keep the iron giants from overwhelming them.

They lost the fight but destroyed five of the tanks which the North Vietnamese were using for the first time in the war. The attack began shortly after midnight with tanks hitting the camp on two sides and an infantry assault up the middle.

Before the onslaught against the camp three miles west of the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh, the North Vietnamese pounded it with a furious artillery and mortar barrage.

"How much did they fire? The Lord only knows," Spec. 4 Franklin Dooms, 23, of Waynesboro, Va., said.

The tanks smashed through the camp's outer defenses with ease. A wounded American survivor commented: "That barbed wire just doesn't slow tanks down at all."

The defenders fought the tanks with recoilless rifles and grenades. Men clambered atop the tanks, which were firing 76mm rounds into the camp's bunkers, and tried to toss grenades down the vehicles' hatches.

The battle ended quickly. A Special Forces radio operator called Khe Sanh: "I've got two tanks sitting on top of my command bunker." Then the radio went dead. It was feared that the entire camp was wiped out.

But a strange siege was under way. The headquarters bunker was under three feet of reinforced concrete and two feet of steel. The tanks tried to break this down. They couldn't.

The North Vietnamese started pushing satchel charges down the air vents of the headquarters bunker. None got inside. Then the Communists tried gas. That didn't work either. Eight of the Special Forces men were inside the bunker.

The camp, but not the bunker, fell early Wednesday, but not before the Special Forces men called in air and artillery strikes on their own positions. They counted on the steel and concrete bunker to protect the eight men inside.

The call for bombing strikes inside the perimeter of the camp brought a request for confirmation from astonished U.S. officers. The Special Forces men radioed back: "Roger, Roger, that's affirm."

Heavy air strikes continued through the day as a relief force tried to reach the camp. They were repulsed three times with heavy casualties.

Finally, Dooms said, those inside the bunker decided to make a break.

Air Force jets made bombing passes over the enemy soldiers swarming through the camp, but the planes dropped no bombs. While the North Vietnamese took cover, the Americans ran for it. Seven made it. Some were wounded.

In all, 24 Special Forces men were reported in the fight. Fourteen of the Americans escaped, with at least eight of them wounded and some gravely. The other 10 were dead, captured or trying to make it to Khe Sanh.

Marine and Army helicopters pulled the survivors out plus a few wounded Vietnamese and Montagnards, and some Laotian soldiers who had taken refuge in the camp after a recent North Vietnamese attack on their post in southern Laos.

Perhaps hundreds of troops were left behind to fend for themselves. Many made it out during the night to Khe Sanh.

"I think I'll go to bed and say a prayer," said Dooms.

Moments later, Khe Sanh was hit by a heavy artillery and rocket attack. Many rounds landed in the area of the medical aid station where the Special Forces men were being treated.

"God, now we've got to put up with this," said one of the men from Lang Vel.

But none was hit.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The man I want to be is so much better than the man I am, that the man I am can never be the man I want to be.—Bishop Hughes said it.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The Rising Star Gospel singers of Toltette, Arkansas will appear at the Union Baptist Church, Fulton, Sunday February 11th, at 3:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The Cotillion Federated Club will meet at the home of Mrs. A. B. Yerger Friday February 9th, at 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to be present.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

The local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are preparing to attend a three-day semi-annual convention at Columbia High School auditorium in Magnolia, Arkansas March 1-3.

Mr. Surley Bernard, presiding minister for the local group, in discussing this announcement with the congregation pointed to the rising tide of world troubles and materialism as a challenge to Christian thinking and Christian works. "The purpose of the program," Mr. Bernard said, "is to strengthen one another to remain in the faith."

With this in mind, the Watchtower, Bible and Tract Society, sponsors of the three-day refresher program, have set the theme of the assembly as "Strengthening One Another to Remain in the Faith," (Acts 14:22) Mr. Bernard explained.

Whole families will be attending, and parents are encouraged to have their children with them during all sessions.

Jehovah's Witnesses invite the public to attend the assembly.

Will Counsel Bar Patrons

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Charleston Clergymen will visit nightclubs and saloons to counsel bar patrons who they think are "lonely and unhappy."

The new "night ministry" was voted Tuesday by the Charleston Ministerial Association.

Cash on Line for License

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—It's cash on the line now for a marriage license in Denver no more checks. Officials said they've been getting too many bad checks. The $3 fee hasn't changed since 1891.
